

ReliableRAG Test Document

ReliableRAG is an evaluation-driven retrieval augmented generation system.

Retrieval-Augmented Generation combines document retrieval with large language models.

The system retrieves relevant context before generating an answer.

Evaluation metrics can include faithfulness, relevance, retrieval accuracy, and response latency.